Delivering information to our region

Council is embarking on a new format of delivering information to our customers. Welcome to the first edition of Council Connect - a monthly one page feature in the Walkerston & Valley Advertiser, which provides information on council's projects, activities, initiatives and services.

The monthly publication is complemented by a weekly e-newsletter which is delivered to your inbox and a fortnightly two-minute television update, which airs on Channel 7 on Monday and Tuesday nights.

Corporate Communications Manager Ken Furdek said the innovative approach is a saving to council and would better service the needs of our residents and ratepayers.

"It is important we provide as much information as we can to keep residents and ratepayers informed," he said.

The new strategy endorsed by council, replaces the production of 48,000 copies of the bi-monthly Infocus resident newsletter, which was delivered to households across the region.

Finance and Technology portfolio councillor Darryl Camilleri said establishing Council Connect was identified as part of council's Service Level Review.

"The Service Level Review looks to identify savings and find ways to deliver services in the most cost effective way," he said.

"This would ultimately minimise future rate increases."

Local parks and amenities revitalised

Over the last two months Mackay Regional Council staff have been busy upgrading a number of parks and amenities in Walkerston and the Pioneer Valley.

Mackay Regional Council has allocated $377,000 this financial year (2010-2011) to upgrade existing parks and playgrounds in the region.

As part of the 2010-2011 upgrades council has refurbished toilet blocks in Finch Hatton, installed concrete floors and seating to an existing undercover area at the Finch Hatton Railway Park and constructed shade structures over playgrounds at North Eton and Eton Reserve.

Parks and Natural Environment portfolio councillor Ross Walker said the upgrades are part of council's commitment to improving parks in the region.

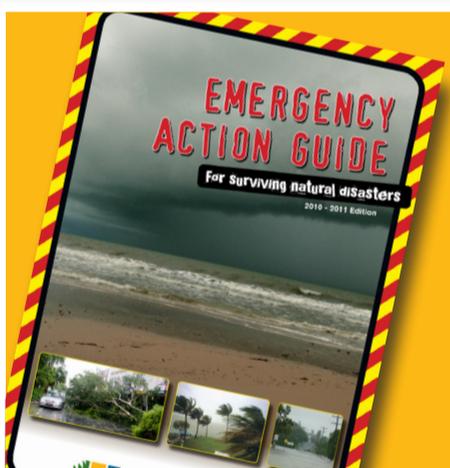

"Council understands just how important it is to have up-to-date family friendly facilities in the Mackay region."

Stay vigilant and be prepared...

The Mackay region has felt the brunt of floods, cyclones and unseasonable rain and this year is no exception with the region already being placed under threat by two tropical cyclones - Anthony and Yasi.

Council's Emergency Action Guide provides valuable information on how to best prepare for the storm season. Storm surge inundation maps are also included; the zones for the region are purple, grey, orange, pink and brown.

Libraries tick all the boxes...

Mackay Regional Council library services recently surveyed 800 customers across all of their six branches in an effort to gauge customer satisfaction in regards to their library experience and the service provided by staff.

As an incentive to complete the survey, residents went into the draw to win a $100 prize. Congratulations to the lucky winner from the Sarina Library, Mrs Shirley Butler.

Results were extremely positive with 98 per cent of customers satisfied with their local library branch and service. The survey also identified the top five reasons to visit the library which included to borrow items, for internet use, to attend Storytime (2 to 5 year olds stories, song and craft program), to read the newspaper or a magazine.

Libraries Manager Jan Kilbourne and Cr Karen May present Shirley with her prize.

14,600 dogs have been registered with council so far this financial year - that's almost one thousand more than last year.

Remember all dogs and cats in the region must be registered.
