Part 1, Division 2, Section 1.4 (2) (e) Industrial Areas | In Part 1, Division 2, Section 1.4((2) e) Industrial Areas amend the wording of the third (3rd) paragraph to include transport depots.

The preferred locations for major industries include the Mackay seaport, Paget and Ooralea. Major rural industries, such as the sugar mills at Racecourse, Pleystowe and Farleigh, and the abattoir at Bakers Creek, are encouraged to develop further.

Other low impact less intensive industries are established in appropriate locations, including Glenella, North Mackay, Ooralea and Slade Point. The role of these designated industrial areas is to provide services to the major industries and the residential areas of the City.

Industrial activities should be located in designated industrial areas.

Other locations in which low impact less intensive industrial activities could be established may be considered include the commercial / service and industrial area in the City Centre Locality and the villages of Walkerston and Bakers Creek. Examples of low impact small-scale industrial activities include service trades, light fabrication and engineering workshops, light vehicle repairs and maintenance, domestic plant and equipment hire, builders' yards, small freight transport depots and storage facilities, and possibly small-scale waterfront activities at North Mackay. The establishment and operation of these industries avoids adverse environmental impacts upon the surrounding ecosystems and the nearby residential areas. |
| 2 | Strategic Framework
Part 1, Division 2, Section 1.4 (2) (k) Rural Areas | In Part 1, Division 2, Section 1.4(2)(k) Rural Areas amend the wording of paragraph 1 and 3 as follows:

*Rural land is developed and used for a wide range of rural economic activities including extractive industries, forestry, grazing, intensive animal husbandry and water supply development. The scheme applies provisions to protect the amenity, habitat and bio-diversity, cultural, and landscape values of rural land, to manage the effects of the activity on the City’s infrastructure, in particular the transport, water supply and sewerage infrastructure, and to require sustainable and effective waste management measures.

Intense forms of rural activity requiring significant improvements to the City’s infrastructure, are located within reasonable proximity to the urban area of Mackay and the Port of Mackay, providing the environmental impacts can |
The subdivision of rural land and the expansion of Rural Residential development within rural areas is not consistent with the scheme’s outcomes.

The scheme also identifies and protects the amenity, open space and conservation values of rural land. The use and development of rural land is subject to the adoption and implementation of sustainable management practices. The use and development of rural land for uses other than a rural activity is not consistent with the scheme’s outcomes.”

Amend the wording of Part 3, Division 1, Section 3.1(3)(c)(xi) to include specific reference to rural activities, as follows:

“(xi) Rural land:
(A) is protected from incompatible land uses, particularly urban (including but not limited to residential, industrial and commercial) uses;
(B) is maintained in agricultural use, where possible, in order to ensure the viability of the sugar industry in the City; and
(C) provides opportunities for a wide range of rural economic activities (including agriculture, animal husbandry, aquaculture, extractive industries, forestry, intensive animal husbandry, kennels or a rural industry) and water supply development.
