

SO MANY BENEFITS!

It's never too late to start being physically active. Physical activity has a number of benefits, regardless of your age, which may assist to:

- boost energy levels and improve mood
- control weight
- give you time to think
- provide time with friends or family
- cut car induced air pollution.

WALKING HINTS

1. Make walking part of your day

Choose a time that suits you and that you can stick to. Opportunities include:

- walking your dog
- taking the stairs
- parking the car further away.

2. Set yourself goals

Have a target in mind eg. Gooseponds circuit three times a week. This can be a great incentive. Remember to start out slowly and build up gradually.

3. Go with a friend

A walking partner, such as a friend, workmate, spouse or dog can keep you motivated and on track. For more information about Just Walk It walking groups visit the Heart Foundation website: www.heartfoundation.com.au

HOW MUCH IS ENOUGH?

10,000 steps is the suggested daily step goal for a healthy adult. You can accumulate this across the whole day. You should aim to put together at least 30 minutes of moderate intensity physical activity on most, preferably all, days. Advances in technology mean that these days we are less active. It's up to us to make the choice to be more active.
