

Red Cedar

Toona ciliata

TOON-ah sil-ee-AH-tah

This large deciduous rainforest tree is well suited to large gardens as a feature or shade tree.

Mature trees have scaly, fissured bark and large buttresses. Growth habit depends greatly on environmental conditions. Plants grown in full sun will develop a spreading crown, whilst plants grown in sheltered forest situations will grow tall with straight trunks.

Due to its size and valuable timber, Red Cedar has been extensively logged.
