

Native Sarsparilla

Hardenbergia violacea

Harden-burr-jhee-Ah vio-lace-ee-uh

A climbing plant with branches that twist around the stems of other plants. It is moderately vigorous but rarely covers other plants so extensively as to cause damage.

Evergreen with pretty purple to pink pea flowers in winter and spring. The leaves are dark, glossy green with prominent veins and are tough and leathery.

Can be used as a wandering ground cover and responds well to pruning to promote bushier growth. Also suitable for hanging baskets.

Category: Climber

Height: Variable

Spread: Variable

Full sun to part shade

Prefers moist soils

Well-drained soil

Butterfly attracting

Suitable for hanging baskets

HOT TIP

Host plant for Common Grass Blue Butterfly